

Software Development Internship

30 - 38,5h /week, Vienna, Austria

Parkbob (www.parkbob.com) is a quickly developing start-up that enables a seamless last mile experience by delivering context-aware parking rules & restrictions as well as real-time parking information. We are excited about the future of urban mobility and hope you will join us on this journey. We are a dynamic company comprised of more than 50% women, and proud of it!

Within the scope of the FFG FEMtech grant we are looking for motivated female students for an Internship in the field of Software Development (4-6 months)

Your role:

- Working on software development projects related to our Smart Parking Service
- Supporting in creating & improving crowd-based software services
- Writing software modules for our parking data backend in TypeScript and JavaScript
- Creating frontend components in React.js
- Working with virtual servers and using databases like MongoDB and PostGIS
- Optimizing existing software modules in node.js

What we are looking for:

- Female students enrolled at an Austrian University or Fachhochschule in the field of Computer Science, Mathematics or similar (due to FEMtech grant)
- At least one complete semester in the field of study
- Knowledge of JavaScript, node.js
- Experience with TypeScript preferred
- Experience with MongoDB and/or PostGIS preferred
- Enjoys working with geospatial data & is interested in the field of mobility
- Reliable, detail-oriented person and a strong team player
- Austrian/ EU work permit

What we are offering:

- Flexible working hours (starting from 30h/week)
- An international & diverse team with lots of start-up spirit
- Creative atmosphere in our office embedded in a start-up campus
- Other benefits such as free soft-drinks, top equipment and continuous training
- Monthly gross salary in accordance with collective agreement for internship positions: 1.400,- EUR for full-time (38,5h)

Interested? We are very much looking forward to your application and a more detailed discussion about the position. Please send your application to Steliana Kokonova, HR Manager, jobs@parkbob.com